

Native Invoice - Privacy Policy

What information do we collect?

We do not collect any information in either the Native Invoice app or at nativeinvoice.com. Except in support tickets, those will be saved, so the customer service can solve the problem.

How do we protect your information?

The Native Invoice app stores all data in the Apple iCloud system. The stored data is only accessible to the user; not even the software developers are able to access the stored data.

What types of cookies are there?

- Session cookies: these are mainly used by online shops and allow you to keep items in your basket when shopping online. These cookies expire when the browser is closed.
- Permanent cookies: these remain in operation, even when you have closed the browser. They remember your login details and password so you don't have to type them in every time you use the site. The law concerning permanent cookies stipulates that they need to be deleted after a period of six months.
- Third-party cookies: these are installed by third parties with the aim of collecting certain information to carry out various research into behaviour, demographics etc.

What types of cookies we use?

Permanent cookies.

We only use cookies to store the language, so that the next time you open the browser, you don't have to select the language again.

Do we disclose any information to outside parties?

No, because we do not store any information. Except for support tickets, those will help us solve the problem, but they are not used for any other thing.
